THE SONG OF THE CHAF. "ANNIE LAURIE."

Many of our readers remember sec-

The Incident. 'Give us a song!" the soldiers cried, The outer trenches guarding, When the heated guns of the camps

The dark Redan, in silent scoff, Lay grim and threatening, under; And the tawny mound of the Malal-No longer beliehed its thunder.

Grew weary of bombarding.

There was a pause. The guardsman said: "We storm the forts to morrow; Sing while we may, another day Will bring enough sorrow.'

They lay along the battery's side, Below the smoking cannon Brave hearts from Severn & from Clyde, And from the banks of Shannon.

They sang of love, and not of fame; Forgot was Britain's glory-Each heart recalled a different name, But all sang "Annie Laurie." Voice after voice caught up the song,

Until its tender passion lose like an anthem, rich& strong-Their battle eve confession. Dear girl, her name he dared not speak,

Yet, as the song grew louder,

Something upon the soldier's cheek

Washed off the stains of powder. Beyond the darkening ocean burned The bloody sunset's embers, While the Crimean valleys learned How English love remembers.

And once again a fire of hell Rained on the Russian quarters, Vith scream of shot and burst of shell, And bellowing of the mortars. And Irish Nora's eyes are dim

For a singer dumb and gory; And English Mary mourns for him Who sang of "Annie Laurie."

Ah, soldiers! to your honored rest Yous truth and valor bearing; The bravest are the tenderest— The loving are the daring.

At the celebrated battle of Rivoli, the conflict seemed on the point of being decided against him. He saw battle were hushed. Napoleon seized the precions mements, and while amusing the enemy with mock negotiation rearranged his line of battle, changed his front, and in a few minutes was ready renounce the force of discussion for the stern arbitrament of arms. The plendid victory of Rivoli was the re ult. The great moral victories and defeats of the world often turn on five minutes. Crises come, the not seizing f which is ruin. Men may loiter, but ime flies on the wings of the wind and all the great interests of life are queding on, with the cure and silent read of destiny.

An Arkansus "Nonfla." In a recent tour through one of the sildest and most span-dy-settled redata of Arkansas, (says a correspondant of a New York paper.) I arrived the ferry on Cache river. A little and, about fifteen steps from where e flat lay, tied to a snag in the edge the water. "I MUST SLEEP NOW."

BY ANDREW J. WOOD. I must sleep now; I am weary, And I fain would rest awhile; And forget this world so dreary, In the dreams which men beguile I must sleep now; for I'm feeling A cold hand upon my brow; And a drowse is o'er me stealing, That must bind my senses now.

must sleep now; for the cold world Looks upon me with disdain; As from its respect I am hurled Without thought of my deep pain; it has echoed forth my praises On the ever-wafting wind; And while yet the glad song raises, Casts my form in scorn behind.

must sleep now; she who kneeling At the altar as my bride, While those sacred thoughts came steal ing O'er her husband at her side, Sacred swore in joy or sorrow, To be faithful unto me, All forgot upon the morrow, And far hence did quickly flee.

must sleep now; life's no blessings To detain me longer here; All the false world's rich possessings Could not now my sad heart cheer. Lay me 'neath the waving wilow, Where the stars their night-watch keep, With the damp earth for my pillow, For I now must sink to sleep.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which must be a many and smot dangerous cases as this. Some on human all can reach; but even to those the therety Detocal affords relief and confort.

Astor House, New Yook City, March 5, 1856, Decrea Area, Lowell, I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your Cityry Detocal has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dan serous symptoms of Congamption, from which no aid we could present gave her much relief. She was steadily full me, until the strong of this city, where we have come to obvice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We dose his kindness, as we do your skill; for the has recovers from that day. She is not yet as giving as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.

Here is another poetic style based upon "the Language of Flowers:" "In Eastern lambs they talk in flowers.

And they tell in garlands their loves and cares; Each blossom that blooms in their gard-

It seemed to originate in a South-westerly direction, and its course was through this place toward the Northeast. It extended over a space of five miles in breadth; and in all probability was of considerable length. Many of the hall stones were prodicious in their dimension, and I thought likely unprecedented in size. Some were ten inches in circumference, while others were greater in length being from seven to ten inches long. Many of them upon examination exhibitied muss and various kinds of grass seeds, which were received in-to the formation of the frezen rain; and thus were borne through the upper elements to an unknown distance.
